President Ignites Political Fireworks Warns Congo Crisis Could Erupt In War

21 Proposals Tossed Back At Congress

President Says U.S. Strength To Be Kept "Second To None"

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower challenged Congress Monday to act on a lengthy legislative program. He was promptly accused by Democrats of trying to steal their party platform's political thunder.

Taking a leaf from Harry S. Truman's election year book, Eisenhower, in a special message, tossed back at the lawmakers in a special message 21 proposals he recommended last May but which were not acted on in the session recessed for the two national conventions.

He told the members of Congress to "stay on the job until it is done."

"Certainly we cannot adjourn the public interest," he added. Included were proposals ranging from an increase in foreign aid funds, civil rights, a farm bill and medical help for the aged. To them Eisenhower added requests for:

1. An increase of 100 million dollars in special funds "to keep America posted for sudden developments such as those in the Congo."

2. An authorization for a 600-million-dollar Latin American aid program.

3. Approval of a food-for-peace program to be laid before the United Nations in September. Eisenhower accompanied these with an outline of actions he has taken and proposes to take to strengthen the nation's military power, which he said is "second to none and will be kept that way."

Short Of Kennedy Demand

This obviously fell short of the demand of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee, for a three-billion-dollar increase in the level of defense spending.

Whether it satisfied Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, was not immediately clear. Never before had the Senate proceeded to its business with two presidential nominees, one vice presidential nominee and two national party chairmen officially participating.

Nixon presided at the opening. The vice presidential contender was the Democrats' Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. The national chairmen on hand Monday were Republican Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky and Democrat Henry M. Jackson of Washington.

Kennedy, in a two paragraph statement, commented: "The President has outlined once again some of the general areas in which executive and legislative action has been badly needed. If he can now assure us that a responsible program to meet those needs will start receiving the support of at least one-half the Republican members of Congress, Sen. Johnson and I can assure him that those needs will be met in every possible way that time permits."

GOP Cooperation Needed

"A presidential message calling for action on bills previously vetoed, and complaining about spending after a broad series of demands, is not unexpected in an election year—but if it can be backed up with Republican cooperation and leadership, this will be a productive and constructive session."

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas is the Democratic floor leader and Kennedy's vice presidential running mate.

Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York forced the re-writing of the Republican platform to pledge an accelerated defense program. Rockefeller had recommended a three-billion-dollar increase but Nixon gave no comparable figure.

OAS Stiffens Cuba Attitude

Votes To Review Red Activities In Hemisphere

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Organization of American States, apparently stiffening its attitude toward Cuba, voted 20-1 Monday to have its foreign ministers review subversive activities within the hemisphere.

The action came as the United States denounced as a "calculated plan" Cuba's seizures of remnants of what once amounted to nearly a billion dollars in U.S. investments in Cuba.

Only Cuba raised substantial objections as the 21-nation OAS Council approved a four-point agenda for the ministerial conference opening Aug. 16 in San Jose, Costa Rica.

Cuban Proposal Rejected Similarly, the council rejected by the 20-1 margin an alternative agenda proposed by Cuba. Cuba asked the ministers to plan a joint defense against alleged U.S. military and economic aggression. The agenda the council adopted asks the foreign ministers to consider "threats of extra-continental intervention," "existing international tensions in the Caribbean," and measures to promote higher living standards.

A fourth point—in a provisional agenda sent to member governments in late July—called for a joint defense of democratic institutions against "activities of any system incompatible with such institutions."

New Wording Significant But the OAS Council, acting on a committee recommendation, toughened this up and asked the ministers to review inter-American cooperation "for the defense of the democratic American institutions against the subversive activities of any organization, government or their agents."

This new wording was perhaps significant. It was adopted following the welcome extended last Saturday by Raul Castro, Cuban revolutionary leader, to offers of Russian military aid, and the announced seizure of remaining U.S. property in Cuba.

Nowhere in the agenda, however, is there any direct reference to U.S.-Cuban differences, or to the Russian aid offers.

Cuban Seizures Protested By U.S.

HAVANA (AP) — The United States Monday formally protested the Castro regime's nationalization of more than 700 million dollars worth of American property in Cuba.

A U.S. embassy officer delivered the protest note to the Cuban foreign ministry.

An embassy spokesman said that aside from protesting the nationalization order, the note reiterated a U.S. complaint against a July 6 Cuban cabinet decree authorizing Prime Minister Fidel Castro to expropriate all American-owned property "when convenient to the national interests."

Bullet Detonates Dynamite, Killing 4

REGINA, Sask. (UPI) — Four hunters were killed when one fired a 22-caliber rifle bullet into an abandoned house and accidentally detonated 6½ cases of dynamite, authorities said Monday.

Police said one of the bodies had been hurled 435 feet by the explosion. The house had been used as a storage place for the dynamite.

Alaskans Will Vote Today On Moving State Capital

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — An expensive, harsh battle of words that has captivated Alaskans for more than a year reaches the state's 50,000 voters Tuesday. They will decide whether Juneau, Alaska's capital city since 1906, should remain the seat of state government. Sitka was the state's first capital.

On the primary ballot is Initiative No. 1, which would move the capital, by Jan. 1, 1965, to a region dominated by the booming city of Anchorage. The actual site would be selected by a committee of five persons to be named by Gov. William A. Egan.

The Capital Site Steering Committee, the group which has backed the move during a campaign which actually got under way a year ago, argued that Juneau was too inaccessible; that it was too far removed from the bulk of the state's population in Anchorage and Fairbanks; and that fog and low clouds frequently disrupted air transportation into Juneau.

Alaskans United claimed the plan to take the capital from Juneau would result in a costly, unnecessary drain on the state's meager financial resources. Alaskans United also sharply disputed a claim that there was no room for expansion here.

And, quite bitterly, the pro-Juneau group said the initiative was nothing more than a big capital grab by a small Anchorage clique.

Demos Claim Ike 'Stealing' Party Planks

But Dirksen Says Message Will Test Their Intentions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower handed a long list of legislative chores to Congress Monday and the Democratic presidential nominee said many of them can be carried out if the Republicans cooperate.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, who heads the Democratic ticket, and his running mate, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, joined in imputing a politically inspired turnabout to some of the Republican President's recommendations.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, withheld immediate comment.

The Republicans' Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, described the message as a challenge to the Democrats to show whether they intend to carry out their party platform.

"The President has spoken like a true craftsman in calling for action on his program and telling Congress to stay on the job until it is approved," Dirksen said.

Kennedy's Statement

Kennedy released a two-paragraph statement.

"The President has outlined once again some of the general areas in which executive and legislative action has been badly needed. If he can now assure us that a responsible program to meet those needs will start receiving the support of at least one-half the Republican members of Congress, Sen. Johnson and I can assure him that those needs will be met in every possible way that time permits," it said.

"A presidential message calling for action on bills previously vetoed, and complaining about spending after a broad series of demands, is not unexpected in an election year—but if it can be backed up with Republican cooperation and leadership, this will be a productive and constructive session."

Johnson's Reaction

Johnson said Eisenhower now appears to be trying "to embrace vast portions of the Democratic platform." The Texas senator was sharply critical of the President's requests for domestic legislation which he already has "vetoed or threatened to veto." He cited especially area redevelopment and agriculture bills.

While indicating willingness to go along with Eisenhower's recommendations in some fields, Johnson quickly ticked off some as having no chance. One was the renewal appeal to raise the interest ceiling on U.S. bonds. This isn't needed and hasn't been for some time, the Texas said.

Johnson said also he doubted any agreement could be reached on a postal rate increase or on additional federal judgeships in the time available.

And Kennedy, in a statement, expressed doubt that much can be done about civil rights legislation.

Prison Rebels' Plan Backfires

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (UPI) — Rioting convicts at South Dakota state prison "cooked their own goose" Monday by setting fire to the concrete building where they were barricaded.

The smoke from their own fire forced the 40 to 50 rebels into gasping surrender.

Fire Capt. Floyd L. Mair, who led firemen into the burning building under shotgun protection, said "they cooked their own goose."

During the uprising and fire, prison guards fired shotguns at the windows of the two story prison industries building to keep the convicts back.

All the prisoners were recaptured, unhurt. However, four prison guards who had been inside the building were hospitalized suffering from smoke inhalation. Prison Warden G. Norton Jameison said the riot broke out without warning in the industries building, where 65 of the prison's 450 inmates were at work.

The prisoners invaded the industries building and took command of its upper floor. Then they piled furniture along two stairways and set fire to it, the warden said.

Hammarskjöld Addresses U.N.

Dag Hammarskjöld, United Nations secretary-general, addresses special meeting of the Security Council on the Congo crisis at U. N. headquarters in New York yesterday. At right is France's Armand Berard, council president. Hammarskjöld warned that the world faced the issue of "peace or war," and called for immediate and unconditional withdrawal of Belgian forces from the Congo, including secessionist Katanga province. ### Lumumba Flies Back To Congo And Dissension

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Premier Patrice Lumumba came home Monday night to find his government shaken by dissent and parading youths shouting "down with Lumumba."

Returning from a two-week tour of North America and Africa, Lumumba learned the Leopoldville capital province had joined secessionist Katanga in demanding strong autonomy for the Congo's six provinces within a federation to replace his central regime.

"I made an excellent and fruitful trip to the United States as well as to Africa," Lumumba told newsmen at the airport. "All I can tell you is that Africa from east to west and from north to south is on the side of the Congo government."

He said he would first have to talk with other members of his regime before making additional statements.

(At the United Nations in New York, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld demanded that Belgian troops immediately quit the entire Congo. In his report to the Security Council on the failure of U.N. troops to replace Belgian forces in dissident Katanga, Hammarskjöld contended the Congo crisis threatens to erupt into a world war unless it is solved. The United States supported his demand.)

In Lumumba's absence during a critical period of his young nation's life, sentiment against his central government and his methods of running it hardened.

With economic distress spreading, the influential Bakongo tribesmen of western Congo were reported rising in indignation against his leadership. Belgian sources said separatist movements were growing in Kasai province to the east and Equatorial province to the northwest.

Lumumba returned to find still unsatisfied his demands of two weeks ago that all Belgian troops leave the country and that Baron Jean Van den Bosch, head of the Belgian mission, go with them.

Before leaving Accra, the capital of Ghana, Lumumba announced he and Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah had agreed to establish a combined high command to speed the withdrawal of Belgian soldiers from this former Belgian colony, if the U. N. fails.

Four Die In Crash

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Four persons were killed Monday when a Gulf, Mobile and Ohio freight train and a gasoline tank truck collided with a fiery explosion at a crossing just outside the city limits.

The dead were identified as engineer Albert M. Johnson, 52, of Birmingham, brakeman Tom D. Martin, 63, of Adamsville, fireman Mitchell Jones, and truck driver Archie M. Boothe, 35, of Tuscaloosa.

U.S. Will Try To Orbit Huge Balloon Today

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States will try Tuesday to launch a mammoth balloon communications satellite, tall as a 10-story building, into orbit 1,000 miles above the earth.

The 100-foot balloon, called Echo I, is designed to determine the feasibility of using several satellites as relay stations for transmission of radio, television and telephone communications.

The great sphere, weighing only 137.4 pounds, will be carried aloft in collapsed form in the nose of a Thor-Delta rocket. If it inflates in space and achieves orbit, ground stations will try to bounce signals and voice messages off its highly polished surface.

Beverly Aadland's Mother Convicted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Florence Aadland was convicted Monday of contributing to the delinquency of her daughter, Beverly, 17, the late Errol Flynn's last playmate.

A judge returned the verdict after studying photographs of a drinking party at the Aadlands' Hollywood apartment March 19. The pictures, taken by a guest, showed blonde Beverly and platinum-haired Mrs. Aadland, 46, with partially clad males.

Wine bottles were in the background. Witnesses at various hearings in the case testified that mother and daughter were drunk.

U.S. Gives $3,200,000

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States has made a voluntary contribution of $3,200,000 for this year's upkeep of the U.N. Emergency Force. The United States has contributed 43 million dollars since the force was established in 1956.

Quick Test Vote On Civil Rights Republican Aim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans disclosed Monday they hope to force a quick test vote in the Senate on the politically explosive civil rights issue—and thereby embarrass the Democrats.

The planned first step is the early introduction of a bill to carry out civil rights recommendations President Eisenhower made Monday in his message to Congress.

Then the Republicans would seek to place the bill on the Senate calendar without referral to committee.

Such a motion would be debatable, opening the way for a filibuster against it by Southern foes of civil rights legislation. But it is anticipated that a motion will be made to table and thus kill the motion to bypass committee consideration.

A tabling motion is not debatable and thus a test vote could be forced that Republicans feel would dramatize the split between Northern and Southern Democrats over civil rights legislation.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told a reporter he expects to offer the bill Tuesday. "If not, I certainly will the next day," he said.

He said also he plans to offer the motions designed to keep the bill out of the hands of the Senate Judiciary Committee, headed by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.). This committee long has been a graveyard for civil rights measures.

Soviet-Turk Pledge

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union and Turkey have exchanged pledges to work for closer relations. The occasion was the presentation of credentials by Fakri Koruturk, new Turkish ambassador to Moscow.

Father Of U2 Pilot Facing Soviet Trial Believes Khrushch Will Grant Clemency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oliver Powers, father of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, said Monday he believes Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will heed his appeal for clemency for his son.

The father came to Washington as a preliminary to a flight later this week to Moscow. He will try there to intercede for his son, who was forced down with his reconnaissance plane in Russia May 1.

After a one-hour meeting with State Department legal adviser Eric H. Hager, the elder Powers told reporters he was pretty sure Khrushchev will listen to the appeal of "one working man to another and one father to another."

Young Powers goes on trial before a military tribunal of the Soviet Supreme Court Aug. 17 on charges of espionage, which carry a penalty ranging from 15 years imprisonment to death.

Asking about the possibility that his son had been subjected to brainwashing, the father said a psychiatrist and handwriting expert had studied in detail the letters the son has sent home, to determine what may have been on his mind when he wrote.

He said experts believe that men under the influence of drugs have a certain way of expressing themselves and that those who have been held in solitary confinement also show this in their writing.

"They think he has been given a 10-to-15 day treatment in solitary confinement," Powers said. He did not identify those who studied the letters.

At another point Powers said he understood that San Francisco attorney Vincent Hallinan, who ran for president on the Progressive ticket in 1952, and several other American attorneys had been granted Soviet visas to observe the Powers trial.

A group of Virginia attorneys who sought to accompany the elder Powers were turned down by the Russians when they asked for visas.

The State Department said it is not aware that any American attorneys are being allowed to attend the Moscow trial.

In discussing young Powers' letters, the father said he believes Francis was told "what not to write, rather than what to write."

"They told him not to say how he was shot down or anything about the plane."

"Francis only said that the ejection seat of his plane did not work and he had to climb out and jump," the father said.

Calls For Belgian Withdrawal, U. N. Entry Into Katanga

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Dag Hammarskjöld warned Monday that failure to resolve the Congo crisis by pulling out Belgian troops and allowing U. N. forces to enter Katanga province could precipitate world war.

The secretary-general made the statement at a dramatic meeting of the 11-nation Security Council, where he won quick support from the United States for a demand for withdrawal of the troops at the earliest possible moment.

And he intervened late in the day to reject a Soviet demand that U. N. troops shoot their way into secessionist Katanga province.

"I do not believe personally we would help the Congolese people by actions in which Africans kill Africans or Congolese kill Congolese," he declared.

"That will be my guiding principle in the future."

Resolution Offered

Hammarskjöld's desires were reflected in a Tunisian-Ceylonese resolution that called on Belgium to withdraw its forces from Katanga. It contained assurances that the U. N. forces had no intention to interfere in the Congo's internal affairs.

The two-nation resolution appeared headed for approval. There was virtually no chance that the Soviet resolution would be adopted.

The Soviet resolution was much stronger than any course indicated to the Council by Hammarskjöld, who warned that the Congo crisis could set off a world war.

Hammarskjöld's desires were reflected in a Tunisian-Ceylonese resolution that called on Belgian soldiers to withdraw its forces from Katanga, and contained assurances to Katanga's rulers that U. N. forces had no intention to interfere in the Congo's internal affairs.

The Soviet resolution gave Hammarskjöld only three days to act and report back to the Council. Kuznetsov introduced the resolution in the Council at the end of a blistering speech in which he accused Belgian and its supporters of trying to strangle the newborn Congo republic.

Lodge Supports Dag

Kuznetsov said previous Council resolutions gave U. N. forces the right to use armed force in moving against any obstacle to preserve order.

He said if U. N. soldiers won't shoot their way into Katanga province, they should be replaced by forces that will.

His resolution, however, said only that the secretary-general should take "decisive measures, not stopping from the use of all necessary means of enforcement."

The United States gave immediate support to the secretary-general's call for withdrawal of Belgian forces.

Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U. S. delegate, said the time has come "for Belgian withdrawal at the earliest moment under arrangements to be worked out by the secretary-general for preservation of law and order."

Lodge said local authorities in Katanga province would have no grounds for objection to entry of U. N. troops, as demanded by Hammarskjöld, once the council has given assurance that the U. N. troops are there only to preserve law and order.

Md. Police Alerted In Prison Strike; Time Off Rule Repealed

Brief Outbursts At Three Institutions Greet Decision

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Board of Correction rescinded tonight a ruling giving outside workers at Maryland prisons time off their sentences.

The action was taken at a five-hour closed meeting and before it was announced state and city police reinforcements were sent to areas near three prisons where inmates are on sit-down work strikes.

Superintendent of Prisons James Curran said there was a brief outburst at the three prisons when prisoners were told of the decision simultaneously about 9 p. m.

"They shouted, 'No work!'" but the noise subsided in about 15 minutes and there was no violence. The announcement was not made until all prisoners had been locked in their cells for the night.

There were 1,450 prisoners, in all, involved in today's sit-downs at the Maryland Penitentiary in Baltimore, the House of Correction midway between here and Washington, and the Reformatory for Males at Hagerstown.

Officially, there was no word on how many armed policemen had been sent to the three prisons where the strikes were going on. The state adjutant general, Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, said he would have 200 men mobilized and standing by Tuesday morning to guard against any possible demonstrations.

Curran said all he did was alert law enforcement agencies of the need "and it's their business how they handle the situation."

At the executive mansion at Annapolis, Gov. Tawes said: "I don't anticipate any trouble. I honestly believe the situation can be handled without any difficulty whatever. What has transpired up to now has been very orderly."

Curran said the meeting of board members, prison wardens and law enforcement chiefs was

Western Union Asks Rate Hike

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Western Union Telegraph Company asked the Public Service Commission for a rate hike Monday.

The proposed increase would raise the cost of service in Maryland by 8.51 per cent.

Corresponding interstate rate revisions have been filed with the Federal Communication Commission to become effective August 17 and August 26.

Monday's filing with the PSC will become effective September 8 if the commission takes no action on the request.

The firm cited new labor contracts as justification for the rate increase.

The proposed rate hike would increase revenue by some $27,000. For the twelve-month period ended last December, the company's intrastate operations showed a deficit of $57,799, according to the petition.

Patuxent Care Study Funds Appropriated

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Board of Public Works appropriated $1,750 Monday to finance a study of psychiatric services being performed at Patuxent Institution, the State's prison-mental institution for defective delinquents.

The study will be made by a committee of five psychiatrists from the American Psychiatric Assn., all from out of state. It was requested by Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher, chairman of the Patuxent Advisory Board, through the Department of Correction.

Gov. Tawes, who heads the Board of Public Works, had earlier indicated he favored the study. The controversial institution has been the subject of a number of recent investigations, but none dealing specifically with the subject of psychiatric care.

In other action at its monthly meeting, the board approved an additional grant of $5,000 to the Public Service Commission for costs of assistance in preparing cross examination and direct testimony in the pending Cumberland and Allegany Gas Co. rate case.

It had earlier granted $7,500 to help develop information on the case in which the firm is seeking to boost rates in Allegany and Garrett counties.

C&O Interested In B&O Merger Only

BALTIMORE (AP)—Walter E. Tuohy, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, declared Monday that if it can't merge only with the Baltimore & Ohio "we can bow out of the deal."

He thus reiterated his line's disinterest, for the time being at least, of a three-way affiliation including the New York Central.

Both the C & O and Central are offering to buy or trade stock in the B & O with the goal of obtaining control. The offers expire next month.

Tuohy came to Baltimore to reassure local interests that the C & O does not intend to transfer some business to Newport News, Va., where it has terminals if it gains control.

In an interview before meeting with the Maryland Port Authority, Tuohy said the C & O "is interested in building up the port of Baltimore and not in diversion of freight and clipping of costs."

"We are interested in expansion of trade, not in just clipping costs," he said.

Tuohy was emphatic in saying he considered the choice of the C & O by B & O stockholders "much the better" over Central.

"Our road has the happy experience of not having the losses on passenger traffic which have afflicted other roads," he said.

"Consequently, much can be accomplished through our financial strength, and coordination of facilities."

"He recalled that the B & O directors had recommended the C & O stock exchange in May before the Central made its counter proposal.

"If the B & O feels the same way in August that it did in May, then obviously the offer of my railroad is the better one," Tuohy said. "If we cannot merge, we can step out. We don't have to merge."

"An affiliation is to the best interest of the two railroads. If York Central offer is the best, that Baltimoreans feel that the New is O.K. with us."

Women Found Safer Drivers; Insurance Cut

LONDON (AP)—The following information may come as a shock to half the population: A British insurance company survey has shown women are safer drivers than men.

The company announced Monday it is cutting liability premiums for women drivers 10 per cent.

Announcing this decision, insurance broker Herbert Sheppard, a man, stated: "Women have fewer accidents than men and make fewer claims. They are less inclined to take chances, they drive more slowly and are less likely to drink intoxicants during a journey."

And he said women have less difficulty than men in obtaining witnesses after an accident.

Sheppard said his firm reached these conclusions after a survey of driving records and accident claims. By comparison, he said, "men may have things on their minds which will detract from their driving concentration."

But a male official of Britain's Automobile Assn. commented: "There are good and bad women drivers, but fewer of them on the road at any one time—that is why the chance of their being involved in claims is less."

D.C. Area Soft Drink Bottlers Indicted For Price-Fixing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury Monday indicted seven companies bottling soft drinks in the Washington metropolitan area on charges of illegal price-fixing.

The alleged conspiracy involved about a $30 million a year retail sales operation, the grand jury said.

The indictment, announced by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, named as defendants the Carbonated Beverage Manufacturers Association of Washington, Inc. and these association members:

Washington Coca-Cola Bottling Co. Inc.; Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of Washington, Inc.; Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. Inc.; Canada Dry Corp.; R. C. Nehi Bottling Co., Washington, Inc.; Seven-Up, Washington, Inc.; and Rock Creek Ginger Ale Co., Inc.

The indictment charged members of the association conferred on prices in early February and later that month held a meeting in Richmond, Va., at which it was agreed to increase prices, effective March 7.

L. J. HOHN

County Names Man To Fill Music Position

A native Ohioan currently a music director in Columbia, S. C., has been appointed music supervisor for Allegany County public schools, Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, announced yesterday.

He is LaVern Jay Hohn, of 1601 Hollywood Drive, Columbia, a native of Louisville, Ohio.

He was graduated from Mt. Union College, Alliance, Ohio, with a bachelor of science degree in music education.

Hohn received a master's degree in music education from University of South Carolina. He minored in psychology.

After teaching at Southeast High School, Ravenna, Ohio, in both instrumental and vocal music classes, Hohn became director of instruction at Dreher High School in Columbia.

The successor to Dr. Frank E. Gamble, who resigned to accept a position in the University of British Columbia, Vancouver is married and he and his wife have two children.

Webster said Hohn's talents are equally divided between instrumental and vocal music instruction.

He served five years in the Army, with two of those years with the Counter-Intelligence Corps in Paris.

Two other years were at Fort Jackson, S. C., where he was in charge of the Army band there. For one year he organized and directed the WAC's glee club at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Ga.

Magistrates In Favor Of Camp Program

The Trial Magistrates Association of Allegany County Sunday went on record as favoring the revision of the old CCC camps.

Louis Fatkin, juvenile magistrate, was host to the group at its monthly meeting at his home in Westport.

Magistrate Paul Barnett made the motion concerning the CCC camps and stated that any similar program would also serve the purpose.

Magistrate Barnett said the camps would provide work and training for young men between the ages of 16 and 22.

He noted that many young men in this age bracket are getting into trouble with the law because of the lack for something to do.

The local magistrate observed that the revision of Civilian Conservation Corps camps would go a long way in keeping young men on the right path.

Magistrate Fatkin gave a history of CCC camps and noted that people in this area today are still reaping the benefits of the movement which was discontinued years ago.

The association also discussed a number of motor vehicle violations which have occurred in this area in the past. Each judge gave his views of the particular cases.

The association's next meeting will be in the form of a family picnic on September 11 at Deep Creek Lake.

Award Made In Accident

A decision in U. S. District Court for Western Pennsylvania in Pittsburgh has given a Bedford widow $67,500 damages as a result of her husband being crushed to death by a tractor-trailer three years ago.

Judge John L. Miller made the ruling in favor of Mrs. Nancy Mavila, 30, a school teacher, and her daughter, Lynn Ann, 6. The defendant was the Middle Atlantic Transportation Company of New Britain, Conn.

Mrs. Mavila's husband, William, 33, was killed in December of 1957 when an illegally-parked tractor-trailer, owned by the Middle Atlantic Company, drifted into him as he was getting into his car in the parking lot of the Midway Restaurant on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

During the occupation of England by the Romans, the homes were heated by duct systems connected to outdoor fireplaces, a process similar in technique to modern air conditioning.

Woman, Child Hospitalized

A New Jersey woman and her 17-year-old daughter last night were in "serious" condition at Bedford County Memorial Hospital, where they regained consciousness several hours after being admitted with injuries sustained in an automobile accident on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

State Police at Everett, Pa., identified the injured as Mrs. Eileen Tarbox, 42, and her daughter, Pamela Tarbox, of Pluckemin, N.J.

The two were hurt when their automobile, operated by Mrs. Tarbox, smashed through a guard rail and plunged over a 150-foot embankment onto jagged rocks about four miles east of Bedford on the turnpike.

Authorities said they have been unable to determine what caused the driver to lose control of her late model sedan, which was demolished.

The accident occurred at 7:15 a.m. (EDT) as the two were traveling east on the highway.

State Police said no charges have been preferred pending completion of their investigation.

Cooler And Less Humid Weather Forecast Here

Local and area residents will be given a break today as far as the weather is concerned, according to the Weather Bureau.

The forecast today calls for mostly sunny weather with the high between 75 and 82 degrees. Also the humidity will not be as high today as it has been the past several days.

Yesterday the mercury hit 89 degrees in Constitution Park and 92 degrees downtown. The temperature did drop sharply around 3 p.m. when some rain fell, but climbed back up to near the 90-degree mark later in the afternoon.

The five-day forecast for the state calls for temperatures to average about three degrees above normal.

Water Consumption Rises Sharply

Water consumption averaged 16,247,000 gallons daily last week, up sharply from the 12,537,000 gallons used this time last year.

The high water consumption was no cause for worry, however, as an inch of water was flowing Sunday over the spillway of Lake Koon and into Lake Gordon, which was down four and a half feet.

The average American farmer produces about double the number of bushels of corn per acre that a Russian farmer produces.

More Barriers For Turnpike To Be Installed

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission approved Monday an engineer's recommendation that 100 more miles of medial barriers be installed on the toll road.

Chairman Joseph J. Lawler said the additional barriers would be put up as soon as possible at dangerous spots on the east-west section between the Ohio State line and New Jersey.

The commission's action came amid growing demands for installation of the medial barriers to reduce accidents on the super-highway.

Nine persons have been killed the past two weekends in accidents in which cars crossed the road's medial strip and smashed oncoming cars in the opposite lane of traffic. Six died in the turnpike's worst accident of record near Lebanon last Sunday. Three more persons were killed Saturday in a three-car cross-over mishap near New Kensington.

Michael Baker Jr., of Rochester, Pa., the commission's consulting engineer, told the agency at a special meeting that the new barriers "require installation without question."

Cheat River Power Plant Views Differ

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI)—A group of Preston County citizens.

The Monongahela Power Co. said Monday it is opposed to the building of a hydroelectric plant on the Cheat River near Rowlesburg. W. C. Handlan, manager of the utility's area redevelopment, said "the reason we are in opposition to a hydroelectric plant in that area is that it doesn't make sense to put in such a plant right in the middle of a coal field."

"Any time you put in power with electricity you are destroying a market for coal," he said. "Obviously whatever power is produced will destroy a market for coal and cause that much more unemployment."

However, an opposite view was taken by an attorney representing Rowlesburg and Parsons. Its principal purpose would be the control of floods rising in the 941 square miles of the Cheat River Basin above the dam site.

Handlan said he thinks "99 per cent of the people in Preston County will back the building of a reservoir in the area and the hydroelectric plant."

Handlan said the company was not opposed to the reservoir if it is necessary for flood control.

"We are going to the hearing with open minds to see what develops and if there is a necessity for installing flood control measures we would like to hear what engineers have to say about it," he said.

The reservoir would occupy the Cheat River valley between

Pirates Open Series With Last Place Cubs Tonight

Vinegar Bend Mizell Seeks Ninth Victory

Drabowsky To Hurl For Chicago; Buccos Hold Biggest Lead

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Pittsburgh Pirates fans, nearly exhausted after a series sweep over the San Francisco Giants at Forbes Field, had a chance to recuperate Monday.

But they won't have long to rest because the Cubs return to action Tuesday night, opening a two-game series here against the pesky Chicago Cubs.

The Pirates hold a 5½ game edge over runner-up Milwaukee and St. Louis, their largest margin of the season. Chicago is in last place 2½ games behind the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Moe Drabowsky (2-0), who recently was called up from Houston of the American Association is expected to be on the mound for the Cubs. The Pirates' probable pitcher is Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell (8-5).

The never say die Pirates won the first game Sunday without much trouble. But in the nightcap they trailed 5-0 after only two frames and it appeared a split was in order.

Then Don Hoak, Hal Smith and Joe Christopher combined to knock in five runs and gain a 5-5 tie at the end of six innings. The Cubs won the game in the eighth by scoring two runs off rookie Sherman (Roadblock) Jones.

Following the Chicago series, St. Louis visits Forbes Field.

Braves Edge Dodgers, 7-6

Covington's Pinch 3-Run Homer Wins

ington hit a pinch-hit three run homer in the eighth inning Monday night to pull the Milwaukee Braves from five runs behind into a 7-6 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The blast capped a four-run inning for the Braves — all started after two were out — and saved Milwaukee from falling into a third place tie with Los Angeles. Instead, the Braves moved into sole possession of second place, five games behind idle Pittsburgh.

Milwaukee's uphill struggle started in the fifth inning after Los Angeles had scored four runs in their half of the fifth to make the score 6-1.

Eddie Mathews hit his 23rd homer of the year in the fifth inning off Los Angeles starting Don Drysdale with Del Crandall on base to make the score 6-3.

Drysdale moved along without trouble until with two out in the eighth Joe Adcock singled and Red Schoendienst moved him to second with another single. Chuck Cottier ran for Schoendienst and Johnny Logan knocked a base hit off of third baseman Jim Gilliam's glove to score Adcock.

Ed Roebuck replaced Drysdale and Covington batted for winning pitcher George Brunet. Covington, who has been benched for his slowness, worked the count to 1 and 2 and then sent the next pitch into the right field bleachers.

Brunet earned his victory by hurling a hitless seventh and eighth inning and Don McMahon retired the Dodgers in order in the ninth.

Milwaukee starter Carl Willey was knocked out in the four-run Dodger fifth inning. Norm Larker singled in two runs and after Willey had loaded the bases with two walks, Charlie Neal singled in two more runs off of reliever Joey Jay.

Stagg To Receive Football's Top Award On 98th Birthday

Will Be Presented Medal Next Tuesday

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — Amos Alonzo Stagg, the only man named to the football hall of fame both as a player and a coach, will receive football's top award on his 98th birthday.

Stagg, who will be 98 Aug. 16, was named Monday as recipient of the 1960 gold medal award of the National Football Foundation. Presentation will be made at a luncheon in Stagg's honor in his home town of Stockton, Calif., by Chester J. LaRoche, president of the foundation.

A graduate of Yale in 1888, Stagg was outstanding football and baseball player. He was named to Walter Camp's first all-America team. He turned down offers to play major league baseball in order to start coaching football at Springfield College. After two years there, Stagg went to the University of Chicago as athletic director and coach and remained 41 years. After he was retired by Chicago in 1932, Stagg coached for 13 years more at the College of the Pacific, then from 1947 through 1952 he was associate coach with his son, Amos Alonzo Jr., at Susquehanna College.

Ed Bailey's Homer Sinks Giants, 4-3

Cincinnati Winner On 9th Frame Blast

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Catcher Ed Bailey's ninth inning home run off Lefty Mike McCormick gave the Cincinnati Reds a 4-3 victory over the slump-ridden San Francisco Giants Monday night.

Bailey's ninth homer of the season with none out in the ninth sent the Giants down to their fifth straight defeat and their eighth in the last nine games. Bailey hit McCormick's second pitch into the right field stands.

The blast gave reliever Jim Brosnan his fifth victory against two defeats.

Singles by Leon Cardenas and Eddie Kasko and Vada Pinson's fielder's choice gave the Reds a run in the third inning. The Giants tied the score in the fourth against starter Claude Osteen on consecutive singles by Joe Amalfitano, Jim Marshall and Orlando Cepeda.

Cepeda's single and a double by Felipe Alou sent the Giants ahead 2-1 in the top of the sixth inning. The Reds matched the run in the bottom of the frame when Pinson singled, went to third on Bell's single and scored on Wally Post's double play grounder.

Willie Kirkland's 12th homer gave the Giants a 3-2 lead in the top of the seventh. Again, the Reds came back to knot the score, this time on pinch hits by Frank Robinson and Willie Jones with a wild pitch sandwiched in between.

The defeat was McCormick's seventh of the year against 10 victories. He now has failed to pitch a complete - game victory since June 3. Between that date and Monday night, McCormick had failed to finish 12 consecutive starts.

Barry MacKay Tops Llamas; Victors To Battle Venezuela

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Big Barry MacKay, still smarting from his surprise loss that jeopardized his team's chances, put the United States in the American zone Davis Cup tennis finals Monday when he blasted Mexico's Mario Llamas in the third game of the second set. Llamas began to come on at the end of the set but MacKay nailed him with several placements that the Mexican didn't even try for.

The winner of the U.S. - Venezuela best-of-five semifinal series will meet the Philippines and qualified the Yanks to meet Dec. 3-5. The winner of that series will face Italy, the European zone champion, for the right to challenge defending champion Australia for the cup.

The concluding match thus was forfeited to Mexico, setting the final score of the series as 3-2 in favor of the United States.

48,232 See Billy Pierce Turn Back Yankees, 9-1

Chisox Beat Whitey Ford Fourth Time

Pale Hose Even Up 1960 Series At 8-8; Trail By Half Game

CHICAGO (UPI)—Billy Pierce pitched a four-hitter against the league leading New York Yankees to lead the Chicago White Sox within a half game of first place with a 9-1 victory before 48,232 fans, largest crowd of the season.

It was the Sox' fourth straight win and gave them an 8-8 record against New York this year.

The Sox whipped Yankee left-hander Whitey Ford for the fourth time this season, collecting eight hits in the seven frames he worked. Though he has a lifetime mark of 25-17 over Chicago he has not beaten the Sox this year.

Minnie Minoso sparked the Chicago attack with three hits in four times at bat to drive in three runs. He clouted a bases-loaded double to score both Pierce and Jim Landis in the fifth inning and Roy Sievers tallied on Gene Freese's sacrifice fly to make it a three-run inning.

The Sox pounded reliever Ralph Terry for five consecutive hits, including doubles by Luis Aparicio and Joe Ginsberg, for three more runs in the eighth before Nellie Fox grounded into a double play to end the rally.

Fox, hitting in his 13th straight game, scored Chicago's first two runs. In the first inning he went from first to third on a wild pitch by Ford and came in on Minoso's double, and in the third after a single, he scored on Sievers' double. Sievers scored also on Roger Maris' error.

Pierce pitched to only 31 batters and issued one walk en route to his 11th win. A double by Gil McDougald and a pair of infield outs accounted for the Yankees' only run. Ford took his second defeat in the last seven decisions for a 7-7 season record.

Rockingham Double Payoff Is $1,212

SALEM, N.H., Aug. 8 (AP)—Jockey Roland Vincifora rode three winners today at Rockingham Park including the first half of a $1,212.20 daily double.

Vincifora booted home Jack O'Diamonds ($43.80) in the first race to launch New England's third highest double return, which was completed by Reminders ($30.40) in the second. His other winners were Bumpy Up in the 3rd and Candy House in the 6th.

It was Vincifora's contention after the fight that Dempsey was out of the ring longer than the 10-second limit—that he actually required from 14 to 17 seconds. Moreover, Firpo claimed Dempsey never would have regained the ring under his own power—that he was illegally boosted back in by two sports writers.

Brain Guy Missing
Firpo, who had refused to hire an experienced United States manager because of the cost, had no "brain guy" in his corner—no fast thinker to come storming into the ring yelling, "The 10 seconds are up!" and "Look, they're helping him back into the ring—he's out, can't make it under his own power!"

A Joe Jacobs would have been in there yelling and demanding that the referee declare Dempsey knocked out or disqualified—and hailing Firpo as the new champion. That's the way Jacobs works.

New Traffic Signals Planned At Keyser

KEYSER—New traffic signals will be installed soon at the corner of Mineral and Piedmont streets. City officials believe the change will result in "faster and safer" movement of traffic at that busy intersection.

The new lights, manufactured by the Econolite Corporation of Los Angeles, have been delivered by Sutton and Herrmann Company, Pittsburgh, and workmen from the Potomac Light and Power Company are expected to begin installation in a few days.

John L. Herrmann, representing the company that sold the lights to the city, was in town Tuesday to demonstrate the new equipment for the Mayor and Council.

Once the new signals are placed in operation, the traffic plan at the Mineral-Piedmont intersection will be changed considerably. One of the notable changes is that pedestrians will now cross on a "walk" signal they will operate themselves by use of pushbuttons on the corners.

When traffic moving westward on East Piedmont Street has the green light, there will be no other movement of traffic but when vehicles coming eastward on West Piedmont have the "go" signal right turns may be made from North Mineral onto West Piedmont and from East Piedmont onto North Mineral. Arrows indicating that motorists may turn right from these streets will flash green.

Traffic will move in both directions (north and south) on Mineral Street, but no turns can be made off Piedmont Street while cars on Mineral have the green light.

Pushbuttons for pedestrians will be located on poles at the northeast and southwest corners. When the button is pushed, all of the lights turn red after the regular cycle is completed, allowing pedestrians to safely cross the street.

Councilman Lester Oates said that this innovation will be a big improvement over the present system, whereby the walk light comes on after each light change. Often, under this setup, there are no pedestrians waiting to cross, and traffic is delayed unnecessarily.

Clay County SRC Probe Ends Abruptly

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Crime Commission Monday abruptly ended its investigation of alleged shady dealings in State Road Commission (SRC) operations in Clay County. But just what the end result would be remained cloudy.

Del. J. C. Cruikshank (D-Clay), co-chairman of the commission who instigated the investigation of the SRC's practices in his home county, said the evidence gathered "should be turned over to law enforcement officers for proper action."

Cruikshank would not amplify on his brief statement that the case "should be" further investigated by law enforcement agencies. The inquiry grew out of allegations that, among other things, SRC payrolls were padded in Clay County, with the money being channeled into Republican political chests.

Abolished "Flower Fund" A Crime Commission member, Sen. William A. Moreland (D-Monongalia), commented following conclusion of the Clay investigation that the administration of Gov. Cecil H. Underwood "may have abolished the flower fund but devised a more insidious scheme to get money."

He said his reference was to "padding of payrolls." "Under the Democrats, state employees did contribute to a political fund but out of their own pockets," Moreland said. "Here, the state foots the bill because there is no service performed."

The commission consumed the morning session of Monday's meeting taking more testimony in the Clay case. It had summoned half a dozen other witnesses to testify but following a break for lunch, word was sent out to these people that they could go home.

Among those waiting to testify was Clay County road supervisor Orville Schoonover, who was mentioned throughout the hearings, both Monday and June 6-8, as the man who authorized paychecks for people who weren't actually doing commission work.

A witness who denied two months ago that he was paid, or authorized checks to be made out for him, for non-SRC work changed his story Monday. He said he was coerced into saying this.

The man, Homer R. Phillips, claimed he did some work on Schoonover's house on commission time and also that he never saw some checks made out to him.

State Police Lt. R. I. Boone also testified that 13 checks made out to two road employees were endorsed by Schoonover. Boone is a handwriting expert. Schoonover earlier denied endorsing any of the checks in question.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My next door neighbor has a very big mouth. She witnessed a family fight in our house and I know she'll tell it all over town.

My husband came home from work and this neighbor with the big mouth was sitting in the kitchen with me. My husband asked for a glass of milk and some crackers. My bum luck, we were out of milk.

My husband blew his top and called me a "terrible housekeeper." He said if he ran his business the way I ran the house we'd starve to death. After a 10 minute tirade he slammed the door and left.

The neighbor pretended to feel sorry for me and said she never suspected I was married to such a beast. She claims she and her Sandy have been married 23 years and have never had an argument.

In your opinion what should this neighbor have done when the fight started? Do you believe that about her and Sandy? — HAZEL

DEAR HAZEL: The neighbor should have left at the first sign of trouble. People of taste and judgment don't hang around to watch the fireworks of an intramural family fight.

If she and Sandy have been married for 23 years and have never had an argument, one of them is unnecessary.

DEAR ANN: My husband and I are nearing 80. We have three children and six grandchildren.

Our two sons married out of our church and cut themselves off from us because we couldn't accept their wives with open arms. We've never seen their children. For many years we sent their children $100 each for Christmas and they never wrote to thank us, although they cashed the checks. We stopped sending the checks three years ago.

Our only daughter has been the light of our lives. Her children are wonderful to us and we love them dearly.

My husband and I have always lived simply and have accumulated a nice estate. We've heard that according to law children divide their parents' estate equally. Is this right? We want to leave everything to our daughter.

THINKING AHEAD: I'm not going to help anybody write a will. This is a do-it-yourself project. Get a good lawyer at once and spell out your desires in plain language.

In the absence of a will there could be the goll-darndest family fight on record.

DEAR ANN: I'm 11 years old but I look older because I am 5'10" and weigh 130 pounds. This summer I shot up real fast and it's causing me trouble at the box-office.

The cashier always asks me how old I am. When I tell her I'm 11 she looks at me funny. Mom gives me just enough for a half-price ticket. Last week I was so embarrassed I borrowed money from two friends and bought an adult ticket rather than argue.

This really isn't fair because I should be able to get in for half by rights. What can I do about this problem? — THE MOOSE

DEAR MOOSE: Ask your mom to get your birth certificate photostated and carry a copy with you.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Lake Gordon Gate Chamber Repair Slated

Standby Pump Plan Will Be Delayed

The Mayor and Council yesterday took the first step toward the rehabilitation of the gate chamber at Lake Gordon.

City officials yesterday voted to employ the Robert T. Register firm of consulting engineers from Baltimore to design and prepare specifications for repairs to the unit which controls the flow of water from the reservoir.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light reported yesterday that he had contacted Mr. Register to inform him of the action, and was assured the firm will secure the services of a diver as soon as possible.

Only after the diver gives his report of the situation which exists at the inoperable lower level of the gate chamber can plans be completed for rehabilitating the structure.

Getting the unit back in operation will allow the Water Department to drain off all of the mud and silt which has accumulated over several decades.

The Register firm estimated that rehabilitation of the gate chamber would cost $10,000.

This is only a preliminary figure, of course, since the difficulties which may be encountered in repairing the unit will depend upon the diver's report.

The consulting engineering firm also estimated, at the city's request, that construction of low-lift standby pumping equipment at Lake Gordon would cost about $45,000.

Mr. Light said the gate chamber repair is the only work which will be attempted at present, since costs of pipe line relocation in connection with the Cumberland Thruway is not known.

Repairs to the main water transmission line from the filter plant are progressing, he reported.

Mr. Light said workers have found six major leaks and have repaired three of them. Crews are now repairing a break found in the Long Hill section.

John J. Long To Serve On Safety Group

Governor's Meet Is Set Next Month

John J. Long, director of safety and plant protection of the Cumberland plant of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, has been named to serve on the committee in charge of arrangements for the annual Governor's Safety-Health Conference next month.

The conference also will include an exhibit and will be held September 22-23 at the Hotel Emerson in Baltimore.

Governor J. Millard Tawes said he invited Mr. Long to serve on the committee of arrangements because of his knowledge and experience in the field of accident prevention.

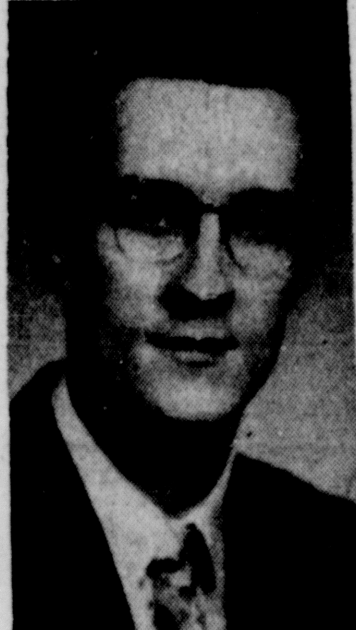

Gov. Tawes added in spite of past efforts, accidents have continued to take a tremendous toll in human suffering and misery. Also accidents costs are mounting, not only to the individual and his family, but also to the employer, the community and the state, he said.

The governor continued the state should do everything reasonably possible to control the causes of accidents and the annual conference was established to help promote health and safety.

Prior to becoming safety and plant protection director at PPG's plant here, Mr. Long served as safety director at the Luker mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. He also serves as street commissioner of Cumberland.

Power Company Asks Reduction Of W. Va. Rates

Move To Affect Area Communities

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—More than 29,000 electric power users in Eastern West Virginia would receive a rare rate reduction under a Potomac Light and Power Co. application filed with the Public Service Commission here.

The PSC set for Aug. 22 hearing of the application affecting about 31,000 of the company's customers at Berkeley Springs, Charles Town, Keyser, Martinsburg, Piedmont, Ranson, Ridgeley and vicinity.

About 1,800 customers would face rate boosts, although Potomac Light and Power said the schedule revisions would cut its annual revenue an estimated $158,914.

It explained that the rate changes are desired to bring its charges in line with those of affiliated companies—Potomac Edison and Northern Virginia Power—in adjacent Maryland and Virginia.

The application also has proposed a rate schedule for all electric customers.

Potomac Edison, which has headquarters in Hagerstown, Md., announced last week it would seek authority from the Maryland Public Service Commission to cut its electric rates by $342,000 a year.

The company serves an area of Maryland generally west of New Windsor, including the municipalities of Cumberland, Frederick, Brunswick, Frostburg, Hancock, Lonaconing, Luke, Mount Savage and Westernport.

At the same time, the Hagerstown municipal electric plant, which is in competition with Potomac Edison, asked for permission to cut its rates but gave no amount.

Both Maryland proposals also included a new rate schedule for owners of all-electric homes.

Garrett Co. Tavern Raided By Police

State and Garrett County authorities raided an Avilton Road tavern Saturday night, and arrested and charged the operator with violation of the county's liquor laws.

Sheriff James Frantz said Hermas Garlitz, operator of Avilton Acres, which is located about two miles south of Route 40, posted $500 bond on a charge of illegal possession of whisky on the premises of the roadside business place.

Magistrate Robert Maroney set bond for a pending hearing in the case, Sheriff Frantz stated.

The sheriff, Deputy Sheriff Wayne Will and State Troopers Donald Wade and R. D. Henline entered Avilton Acres at 11:55 p.m. Saturday. They said they found a small quantity of liquor on the premises and quite a number of teenagers in the tavern.

The Garrett County sheriff said operators of the tavern have a beer license, but that possession of liquor in the business establishment is illegal.

No date has been set for a hearing in the case, the sheriff stated.

The express agency in its application said it wished to handle future traffic destined to Green Spring through its offices in Cumberland.

Notice has been filed in the Express office at Green Spring and in various newspapers circulating in the county of the application and impending hearing.

Agencies Told To Get Together On Blue Cross

Joint Meeting May Be Held Sept. 20

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland Insurance Commissioner F. Douglas Sears warned three agencies Monday that they must resolve their own problems concerning the apparent misuse of hospital facilities.

Sears delivered his ultimatum after a two-hour meeting here with representatives of Blue Cross, the Hospital Council and the Medical and Chiropractic Faculty.

Must Get Together

The session was called after the results of a special poll were made public last week in which 75 per cent of Maryland's doctors said that some of their colleagues hospitalized patients who did not require it.

Sears said statements in the faculty's poll indicate "that the situation has grown to proportions bordering on fraud and misrepresentation."

The commissioner said the three agencies "had it within their power to resolve the problem" but said they "must cast aside petty jealousies, if they exist, any minor differences of opinion, and any selfish monetary considerations."

May Act Himself

If a solution is not forthcoming, Sears said, he will be "forced to take positive action" on his own through his statutory authority to regulate Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

Tentative arrangements have been made for the three agencies to meet Sept. 20.

Meanwhile, Hyman A. Pressman — representing 1,093 Blue Cross subscribers — urged Sears "to take the initiative and knock some heads together."

Pressman, in a brief on behalf of the subscribers, said that "the time for promising that 'something will be done' or that 'a study will be made' is past."

Bookmobile From Garrett To Visit Here

Vehicle Expected Here On Friday

The bookmobile unit of the Garrett County Library is expected to be on display Friday in front of the public library here.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, Allegany County librarian, said yesterday the unit will be driven to Cumberland by Miss Edith Brock, who is in charge of the Ruth Enlow Library at Oakland.

It is expected to be parked in front of the local library from about 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will give the county commissioners a chance to look over the unit, similar to one to be purchased for this county.

When the Allegany County bookmobile unit arrives here it will be driven to the various communities throughout the county, where residents may borrow the books. Miss Walsh said bookmobiles are nothing new. Back in the early 1900's book wagons were used to furnish reading material for persons living in out of the way places.

Washington County had the first such book wagon in the nation and it was horse drawn. Mary L. Titcomb, a native of Vermont, was the librarian at Hagerstown and was instrumental in getting the book wagon on the road, she said.

Today over 11 million people throughout the nation are being served by modern, efficient bookmobiles. The Allegany County Library system became effective on July 1 this year. It includes the previously existing libraries at Cumberland, LaVale, Frostburg and Westernport.

Legion Meets Tonight

A special membership meeting of the Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, Ridgeley, will be held today at 8 p.m. in the post home. A change in by-laws and improvements to the home will be discussed.

Yule Shopping Hours Planned In Cumberland

Stores To Be Open Additional Nights

Residents of the Tri-State area will find it easier than ever to do their Christmas shopping in Cumberland this year.

Stores affiliated with the Retail Merchants Association will remain open 15 nights during the Christmas shopping season here.

Cumberland's Christmas shopping will officially begin on November 25, the day after Thanksgiving.

Christmas street decorations, sponsored by the association, will be turned on that night with appropriate ceremonies.

The City of Cumberland also hopes to have the new mercury vapor lighting system planned for the downtown area installed in time for the ceremony.

Stores will remain open until 9 p.m. on Friday, December 2 and on Friday, December 9, in addition to the usual 9 p.m. shopping available on Mondays.

They will be open until 9 p.m. Monday through Friday from December 12 through December 23 and will close as usual at 5 p.m. on Christmas Eve.

Since Christmas falls on Sunday, stores will observe the holiday on Monday, December 26, but will remain open until 9 p.m. on Tuesday, December 27.

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber of Commerce and acting secretary of the Retail Merchants Association, said a finance committee is being appointed to raise funds for the Christmas street lights.

He said members of the committee will cover the business district, block by block, to collect funds to sponsor the program. He said that promotional events sponsored by the association throughout the year are paid for by only 26 downtown stores.

It is not reasonable to expect, he said, that these same downtown stores should also bear the entire expenses of Christmas decorations.

Everyone in the downtown area, he said, including business and professional people, shares in the benefits and will be asked to assume his share of the responsibility.

City May Boost Tax Base For 1960-61 Levy

$80 Million Figure Under Consideration

The City of Cumberland is expected to make use of a higher tax base in planning the 1960-1961 budget.

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, yesterday said it appears that the city will use an $80 million tax base in its tax levy.

This is $700,000 more than was used in planning the 1959-1960. If the $80,000,000 tax base is used, and the Mayor and Council uses the $1.25 legal limit for levying for operating expenses, it will mean that property taxes will bring in an even $1,000,000 this year to help finance city services.

May Drop Rate

Miscellaneous and state-shared income would make up the rest of the operating budget.

If the $80 million tax base is used, the higher base may allow the total tax levy to drop.

Last year the city levied 31 cents on the tax rate to pay principal and interest on the city debt. Increasing the tax base could drop the tax rate for debt service, even though the city must pay $12,000 this year on the bond issue sold last year to meet Thruway monetary obligations.

Mr. Gibson said it appears most likely that the tax rate may drop slightly as a result of the effect of the higher base on debt service.

The city auditor yesterday began active work on the levy and budget which must be set by August 25.

Budget Work Begins

All major budget requests are in, he said, and it is possible to begin comparing budget requests with funds which can be expected under a $1.25 tax rate available for operating expenses.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said city officials will have to call a special meeting between now and August 17 to decide on the budget.

He said budget and levy ordinances should be passed at the regular August 22 meeting unless Council wants to hold a special formal meeting between then and August 25.

Auxiliary To Meet

The women's auxiliary of Victory Post No. 155, American Legion of Westernport, will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the post home.

Heller Is Commended

Andrew H. Heller, who retired last month as street superintendent after 34 years of service with the city, receives a resolution of commendation from Mayor J. Edwin Keech. Witnessing the ceremony held in the Council Chamber at City Hall are Police Commissioner Phimore Fleming, left, and Water Superintendent G. Ray Light, at far right. The framed resolution notes Mr. Heller's devotion to duty and the excellent work done in various capacities, including superintendent.
